'SOCIAL WORK & SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS'

Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) has become the new buzz word in public policy discussions globally. On September 2015 world leaders at the United Nations in New York adopted the 17 SDG as the global development transformation agenda. The Malaysian Government is developing a National SDG Roadmap where the five SDG principles of People, Planet, Prosperity, Partnership and Peace are incorporated with economic, social and environmental objectives.

In this context of global and national development policies where SDG now play a major role, we want to explore at this World Social Work Day Public Forum:-

- What is the relevance of both the global and national discussions on SDG to social work?
- What are the implications of SDG, targets and indicators for social work practice?
- Can social workers benefit from adopting an SDG framework and approach to practice?

The Public Forum is being held at MCKL to also publicise the Diploma in Social Work programme during the Scholarship Info Day when psychological tests, career talks, counselling and student registration will be available to the public.

Entrance is free. Due to limited space, kindly RSVP before March 20 by email contact@masw.org.my or message our FB page.
